Chinook Report Kitimat BC What a week of Monster nookies. Attached are some of the sheets of Aluminum our clients are hooking into. As you can see the smiles tell the tale. Fish are running in small bunches and some of the pools are stacking up. Today we had a large run of fresh Chinook take three anglers into the back of the reels and a fight of their lives. It was an incredible day as the pool was thick with rolling fish; I thought it was Coho season as the action was unbelievable. Also the shore lunches are a nice hot treat as you can see from the smiling faces posted in this report. With a busy season starting I will make it short and look forward to more action as the peak is just around the corner, tight lines. Tracey John Hittel
